Academic user prices:

Strictly and exclusively for research and/or teaching purposes, not to be used for consulting or contract work for industry: one third of the above prices. Purchaser must be an academic or a staff member at a university or tertiary institution. If an academic wants to use SwelFlo for consulting purposes, they must purchase a commercial license.

Student prices:

Students at a tertiary institution, or the institution itself, may obtain a license or lease for study and learning purposes only (not for consulting or commercial use). The only option available under this license is an annual lease at the rate of US$200 per student per year. This license will not include individual support for each student, or any upgrades during the year. Upgrades will be included each time a lease is renewed.

NOTES:

These prices are exclusive of any taxes or levies that may vary with location, for example, GST in New Zealand.

Ownership of the software remains with Marsan Consulting Ltd at all times.

License and upgrade contracts start on 1 January or 1 July, with a pro-rata cost to cover intervening months.

Software versions released after expiry of upgrade and support will not run unless the contract is renewed.

A registration key will be issued separately to the purchaser, once payment has been received.

Software can be modified to suit a customer's particular needs, on arrangement on an individual basis. Any such modifications, irrespective of agreed pricing, will remain the intellectual property of Marsan Consulting Ltd.
